Patient With Chimpanzee Kidneys Dies

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 7 (U.P.)—Dr. David, 44-year-old New Orleans doctor who received a chimpanzee kidney transplant, died Monday. Chest infection followed by pneumonia was given as the cause of death.

Dr. David, who was an intern at Charity Hospital where David died, said the chimpanzee was functioning at the time of death. Dr. David was one of the team of surgeons who made the transplant.

After the operation, David, a Negro, said, "The monkey kidney didn't bother me."

Tulane University said David was believed to have been the second person ever to receive kidneys from a primate and have them function. He was the first to receive sufficiently to leave the hospital.

The first recorded transplant of a primate kidney to a human was performed on a 35-year-old woman last October. She later died of pneumonia and was promptly the transplant.

Physicians had said that without the transplant David would not have lived. He had suffered with a chronic kidney inflammation for six years.

David left Charity Hospital on Dec. 18. He was readmitted on Dec. 20 for a check-up and had been hospitalized ever since.

Jittery Time Is Ahead For Smokers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (U.P.)—This is likely to be a week of great nervous wondering for the American smoker—and for those who make and sell cigarettes—for those who had tobacco company stocks.

A federal jury of scientists—whose report is expected to be handed its final report on smoking and health, it will be made public at noon Saturday.

The jury members are cautiously regarding its outcome. In their offices, the files are locked. The report apparently is under lock and key.

Yet in a sense, the report is available as the National Library of Medicine in Bethesda, Md., or the back issues of your local newspaper.

For the job of the federal jury was not to do new research, but to weigh up all the existing statistical and experimental research already done, already reported, already made public.

What is not known is how these 10 scientists—five non-smokers, three cigarette smokers and two cigar smokers—will judge the evidence from the more than 100,000 scientific reports they have surveyed.

The federal panel called the cigarette a "major cause of the illness of smoking and health" and will make no recommendations for federal action. It will, however, perhaps by another panel, do that.

It is the war on the cigarette, smoking is, of course, the American cancer. Waiting with perhaps the most concern are the investors, the makers and sellers of smoking products, the growers of tobacco.

In London, the first financial impact of the expected report was felt Monday, triggered off by a news story reporting to be a preview of the findings.

The British rate of lung cancer is among the highest in the world. Tobacco stocks tumbled 25 million dollars in value, as major stocks lost up to a point in London.

British already has been through a nationwide tobacco crisis. In 1962, the Royal College of Physicians and the British Ministry of Health linked cigarettes with lung cancer—and there was a drop of 12.5 percent in cigarette smoking. British industry sources say smoking has been "back to the pre-war level."

In the United States, the stock market, after a slight rise, had a moderate reaction to the upcoming U. S. report. But stocks of U. S. tobacco companies have been reflecting the smoking controversy for some time.

They stand now between their highs and lows, but they are well below their historic highs—in contrast with many other stock issues which are at or near record peaks.

Of the five principal tobacco stocks on the New York stock exchange, two showed fractional gains for the day and the other three showed fractional losses. The market as a whole edged to a record high in the afternoon.

Tobacco stocks represent a minimum U. S. industry that produces 2.5 billion cigarettes a year, worth $2 billion in value. The industry produces 2.5 billion cigarettes a year, worth $2 billion in value. The industry produces 2.5 billion cigarettes a year, worth $2 billion in value.

War Crimes

FRANKFURT, Germany, Jan. 7 (U.P.)—Testimony will begin Thursday in West Germany's largest war crimes trial involving 22 former members of the Nazi SS elite charged with multiple murders at the Auschwitz concentration camp.

A rapidly growing agricultural institute with 1,800 students teaches "theory" courses in breeding. Cross-breeding has produced a new sheep. Some 50,000 of the new breed are providing better wool and meat than the 12 million other sheep in Mongolia.

The institute also trains veterinarians. Although growing about three percent a year, Mongolia's population is only about 1,020,000 and some 40 percent of these have become city workers.

The Mongolian national flag is fermented mare's milk, called kumiss. A mare must be milked frequently. Families living in one isolated camp milk their own mares a day in winter and five times a day in summer.

A meat feast with soup heavily laden with fatty meat and some cabbage and a few bits of potato. It ends with a meat main course.

The favorite is called boortsog, a soup with onion or garlic is wrapped into a ball about the size of a small apple and the ball is cooked in soup. Meat with rice or wheat is also popular.

A more elaborate meal might begin with hot cheese—sliced tongue, for instance, Cotelet and a few bits of carrot are the close to a vegetable usually eaten.

The meal is washed down with hot milk with a dash of salt, and a little tea.

The Mongolians ferment cow's milk and then graze it in a crude way to make something they call kumiss.

Besides milk, "sheep provide skins for suitcases, the warm winter coats of Mongolian men.

Almost Two Million Tour Yellowstone

WEAT YELLOWSTONE, Mont., Jan. 7 (U.P.)—Almost two million visitors toured the Yellowstone National Park in 1963, the 16th "tourist" year that travel to the spot has exceeded one million visitors.

In a report released Monday, acting Superintendent Luis A. Gastelum said the mark almost set a record. The record was set in 1957, the year of the "centennial" of the park.

Gastelum said that, in spite of the decrease in numbers entering the park, total visitor days in the park exceeded all previous records by more than 50,000. He said business in the park hit all-time records.

The report said Independence day provided the heaviest travel during the season. During the four-day holiday 90,742 persons entered the park.

Q—What is the reason for me taking Millrate for several years?

A—Millrate is a compound that contains a mild sedative to prevent anxiety and a vasodilator to prevent attacks of angina pectoris. The latter is strictly a preventive shock and will not prevent an acute attack of anginal pain.

Q—What foods are contraindicated and what foods will relieve the condition?

A—No foods are contraindicated, but such foods as sugar, cheese and butter leave an excess residue in the bowels that may irritate your bowels. If you eat concentrated foods to the exclusion of fruits and vegetables, you will become constipated.

try to consider all the bidding carefully and to decide whether or not your opponents know what they are doing.

If they appear to "know" what they are doing, it is better not to double unless you can double with tricks that they cannot reasonably expect to lose.

It is even a better idea not to double unless you either see a way to win the trick or to visualize a possible set of two or more tricks.

West's double had cost him 20 points. He was down 100 in 25 above or a total of 20 points.

He was better about the whole thing and pointed out that he held an ace and king and the partner-hand opened. The bidding had attended her.

The bidding he would never have doubted. He had overruled the trump suit and had jumped right in there viciously; South expected no contest and the most we could hope for would be a trick set.

News Around Idaho

BOISE, Jan. 7 (UP)—Idaho Republican Chairman John O. McMurtry of Boise says he will attend the GOP National Committee's first 1964 meeting which begins Wednesday in Washington, D. C. and said reviews of campaign strategy for the 1964 election and its role in the Republican nomination process are on the agenda for the first day of the session. McMurtry said he will be accompanied by National Committee members Owen Daniels, Boise, and National Committee member Harry Markham, Pocatello.

PAYETTE, Jan. 7 (UP)—News of the death Monday of 6-year-old Mrs. Minnie Gilliland, victim of a 1961 New Year's morning shooting, brought a stop to efforts to identify and locate the slayer. Sheriff Ray Stephens said he is checking into a threatening anonymous phone call received by a Payette woman. He said the caller threatened to kill the woman and hung up. Stephens said Mrs. Gilliland died as the result of abdominal wounds inflicted by a slacker. Stephens said the slacker was a man who shot her on New Year's Eve. She was stabbed by a man she did not know. She said she awakened to find the man leaning over her bed.

MOSCOW, Jan. 7 (UP)—Driving a car that had been deemed less than worthless after a two-car accident Sunday, four University of Idaho students returned to the north Idaho campus Monday in time for opening classes. Their 1958 model car was damaged so badly in the collision near Lost Trail pass about 40 miles from Idaho Falls that it was estimated repairs would cost $700 more than it was worth. They said, however, that they had to get back to school and rode the left hand door shut. They pulled out a fender that was flapping in the wind and went on their way. The students are Elvin Smith, 25, Pocatello; Jerry Nelson, 18, Nampa; and Mary Tate, 16, and Carl Johnson, 20, both Pocatello.

BOISE, Jan. 7 (UP)—The state board of education says many school districts have some questions bearing on certification of teachers but that there will be no holdback in the January distribution of state funds. The board, which is the state's highest educational authority, earlier announced that the districts must show that all teachers are certified or fail to qualify for state aid. But the board said there will be no holdback in the January distribution of state funds. The board said it will be no holdback in the January distribution of state funds. IDaho FALLS, Jan. 7 (UP)—The population of Idaho Falls has reached an all-time high—at least by one estimate. Roy C. Barnes, city clerk, said Monday that the city's population is 35,000. The figure is the highest in the city's history and is also higher than the Chamber of Commerce estimates of 33,000, which is based on telephone calls and business statistics. Barnes said 11,311 residents are in the city. The city figures that each meter serves an average of 1.3 persons. If that's the case, Idaho Falls has 35,000 people.

BOISE, Jan. 7 (UP)—The Idaho fish and game department Monday reported the closing to trout fishermen of the Snake river reach from the creek upstream to the dam in Adams county. John R. Woodward, director, said the stream has been closed to salmon and steelhead fishing, but that it is open to trout fishing. He said the department has been discussing the migratory species.

BOISE, Jan. 7 (UP)—Coroner E. D. Davis said Monday there will be a funeral in Saturday's train-car collision which killed 55-year-old Earl Spahnwood, Boise. After stilling all the evidence and statements of witnesses there was a decision not to hold an inquest, he said. Spahnwood was killed when a Pacific coast train crashed into his stalled car on the Victory road grade crossing about a mile east of Boise.

BOISE, Jan. 6 (UP)—The Boise Music Week board Monday selected "My Lady" as the 1964 production. President Finna Harvey said the board is probably the first group other than Broadway national and international professional companies to be given the right to produce the musical comedy in the United States. Harvey said the production will be a musical comedy. Harvey said the production will be a musical comedy. Harvey said the production will be a musical comedy.

BOISE, Jan. 7 (UP)—Idaho Tax Collector Floyd West says he is not sure if the state's revenue collections will be sufficient to bring the general fund into balance before the current biennium ends. He said he said a continuation of the present outlook in state revenues would be necessary. He said the state's revenue collections would be necessary. Statehouse Jobs Aren't up for Grabs, But Some Are Eyeing Governor Post

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE, Jan. 7 (UP)—With no statehouse jobs up for grabs until 1966, you'd think an aspiring candidate for governor would be doing other than campaigning in the statehouse.

Many are following other political paths this year. But not it appears, Lemhi County Prosecutor Charles Herndon, a runner-up in the battle for the Democratic nomination in 1962. Since the last election, a lot of political observers have wondered whether Herndon would make another try for chief executive. There are some who think he might have given them Republican Robert E. Demo Solon Vows to Scuttle Scheme to Grab Aid Money

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (UP)—Any attempt by the Johnson administration to shift some of the federal budget to the state would be scuttled by the House Appropriations Committee. Unconfirmed reports that such a move would be made by the administration have been current for weeks in congressional circles.

They have come to the attention of Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., who leads the appropriations subcommittee. He had handled all foreign aid funds for years and who has led the fight to cut foreign spending.

Grangers in Two Counties Hold Dinner

SHOEHORN, Jan. 7.—A pollock dinner was followed by a business meeting for Lincoln-Blaine-Pomona Grange held Saturday afternoon at the Grange building.

Ward MHS, legislative chairman, requested that members take an interest in politics and bring questions for consideration to the Grange meeting for consideration.

Reports from subordinate Granges were given by Ralph Thomas, Blaine; Oscar Kerner, Lincoln; and John Drexler, Upper Big Wood River in Idaho.

There will not be a meeting in February, the group decided. Next meeting will be at 8:30 p.m. on March 3 at a place to be announced later.

State Grange will be bringing a proposition to the annual convention to be held in the Grange hall in Keokuk, Iowa, on a statewide proposition to be held.

D. O. Mitchell, lecturer, was in charge of the program during which he gave a reading and had members answer roll call with "What I can do to improve my Grange."

Committee members in charge of the pollock dinner were Mrs. Keith Jackson, Mrs. Louis Cook and Mrs. Oscar Kerner.

T. F. School District Sued For $7,004

EDINBURGH, O.D., through her guardian, O.D. O'Dell, and Mr. and Mrs. O.D. O'Dell, have filed suit against Twin Falls school district No. 411 for a total of $7,004 in damages.

The O'Dells charge that on May 21, 1963, a school district employee, Edna O'Dell, and her husband, John O'Dell, were on the school property instead of on school grounds, which would have avoided slipping, causing her to fall and injure herself.

The O'Dells are asking for $1,004.85 in medical expenses, $1,000 for time lost, and $5,000 for the cost of automobile and other damages.

Scranton Proposes Big Budget

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 7.—Gov. William Scranton proposed to the 1964 Pennsylvania legislature today a record annual general fund budget of 1,168 billion dollars, the highest in the state's history.

The important thing about this budget, without a tax increase, "Scranton told legislators in his budget message on the opening day of their session, is that it is a no 'stand pat' document. It signals a new era in which we will mark time, but a fiscal year in which we shall continue to build a better Pennsylvania."

Scranton is one of the most talked about possibilities for the Republican nomination for president.

To balance the 1964-65 budget, at least on paper, the governor is counting on $187,500,000 in unannounced appropriations from this and prior fiscal years, a 21.7-million dollar surplus after all deficiencies and lapses are counted. The 142 million dollars which had been used to wipe out a deficit in the last fiscal year and higher revenues from existing taxes.

Budget experts anticipate that the total state budget for 1964-65 will be $1,023,325,000 compared with $1,029,810,000 this year.

Gem Highway Smacked by Ice and Snow

By The Associated Press
Highways in most sections of Idaho were reported snow covered and icy today with more snow falling in some areas.

State police said blowing and drifting snow was reported in southeastern Idaho, but highways were not closed.

Elsewhere in southeastern Idaho all highways were closed.

In the Twin Falls and Arco areas for spots were icy and in the southwest there was frozen slush and black ice.

In the northern Idaho, highways were snow covered from the Canadian border south to the Coeur d'Alene area, with icy spots in the latter section. Icy spots also were reported at Moscow but highways were not closed, as at Lewiston and Grangeville.

Both Lookout pass on U.S. Highway 101 and Lolo pass on U.S. 12 were snow covered and state police said use of chains was required.

MRS. VAUGHN M. POND

Organist to Play for T. F. Music Clubs

The combined membership of the Junior Music Clubs will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday at the LBS lounge tabernacle on Maurice street north for an organ concert to be given by Mrs. Vaughn M. Pond, state organist.

Purpose of the program is to acquaint the students with the pipe organ. Mrs. Pond will give a short history of the instrument, tell how it is constructed and discuss the relative cost, as well as other interesting information.

John Sebastian Bach is considered the father of the pipe organ. One of his compositions will be played. The numbers on the program have been chosen as representative of the organ's versatility, a postlude, one featuring a string, and another, a chorale.

The complete program will include "Adagio Cantabile" by Beethoven, "Prelude and Fugue in E Minor" by Bach, "Woodland Suite" by Fauré, "Chorale Dittone" by Debussy, "The Bird" by Zephaniah Albrecht, arranged by Ethel Smith.

Mrs. Pond has studied organ at Chicago Musical College and with Dr. Alexander Schreiner in Baltimore City. She states that playing this program has been an interesting and worthwhile task, and she has had difficulty in arranging it all to fit into one hour.

Train Merger Is Asked By Company

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 7.—An interstate commission hearing on proposed consolidation of two Union Pacific railroads, the Salt Lake and Ogden and Los Angeles Pacific, is set for today in Salt Lake City.

E. M. Proby, an assistant to the UP vice president in charge of operations, said today that present operation of the city of Los Angeles and City of St. Louis (which is in the process of being consolidated) is uneconomical and is not necessary for the public's needs.

Proby said the proposed consolidation would release railroad equipment for other needs. He said UP will not operate the proposed combined train in two sections during peak passenger periods such as the Christmas holidays.

Objection to the consolidation from a pocket company, official and director of a southern California commuter organization.

Jerry L. Pettis of the Southern Railway Company said the present two-train service serves the needs of commuters in the Los Angeles metropolitan area.

Donald M. Saunders, who arranges travel schedules for employees of the Thibault Chemical Corporation at Thibault City, said the consolidation would hamper itineraries of company executives traveling to California and force the company to choose more expensive means of travel.

Other ICC hearings on the consolidation of the two railroads are scheduled for Thursday and Friday in Los Angeles, and Monday and Tuesday in San Francisco.

Where Is Auditor's Audit? Some See It, Others Can't

BY NORMAN MARTIN
TWIN FALLS, Jan. 7.—Auditor Joe Williams has entered the new year with a tall storm he considers disagreeable.

The auditor is caught under two attacks—the teachers' retirement system and the audit of his office that he says doesn't exist.

Williams said he has two "opinions" outstanding before the attorney general and hoped answers by them will settle his case.

W. P. Willmorth, director of the retirement system, asked Williams Dec. 2 for the transfer of $100,000 from the public school income fund for the state's share of the retirement fund, as provided by the 1961 session law.

Williams claims the legislature this time didn't appropriate the system money for the biennium. The 1961 session, in addition to setting up the law, gave the teachers $200,000 for the biennium.

When the system asked two years ago for the appropriation, it had to go all the way to the state supreme court to get it. The high court had to decide on a technicality of how the money should be transferred from fund to fund.

Willmorth has indicated if the money isn't available until this year there might be a lawsuit by "interested persons," because the system doesn't have a nickel.

Williams has asked the attorney general to determine if the 1961 legislature left any money for the teachers.

He also asked the office to determine the powers of the new legislative council, whether it can legally order him to set aside money from his office or any office to be used for outside audit.

The council claimed in giving the bureau of public accounts its biennial budget, it ordered half the amount to be set aside for special audits of the larger state departments, of which Williams' office was to have been the first audited. The council also claimed in a November meeting that it was to decide upon the audit.

When Gov. Robert E. Smylie ordered a Boise firm to commence an audit of Williams' office, he was upon learning that the council has the auditors down while the council and executive branch exchanged barbs.

Williams was telling newsmen that the audit had been going on for a month or so.

"If there's an audit of my office in progress, then it's an inevitable one because so one around here knows anything about it," Williams claimed today.

"What do I have to do to prove to you people my office is not being audited?"

He said the last he saw of the audit was that it was going to be a brief fall audit.

"I told them that if there was to be an audit, then I'd appreciate them having a meeting with my staff so everybody would know it was going to be a brief audit," Williams said.

"I have seen anyone from the firm since telling them that, and there hasn't been the meeting so there's not going to be and there isn't an audit going on."

Cuba Freedom

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 7.—An anti-Castro organization headed by Manuel Artino, 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion leader, said today it "passes" Cuba a freedom year in 1964.

Cesar Baro, second in command of the Revolutionary front, said today it "passes" Cuba a freedom year in 1964.

"We have found the needed support," he said.

"There have been reports that the movement has military units in Central America."

It was the third consecutive year that Jacoby, Dallas, has won the award and the fourth time in five years.

The announcement said that Jacoby's total of 1,000 major points during the tournament year ending Dec. 1 was the third time any player ever scored as much as 1,000 points and easily broke the previous record of 872½ points set by Robert Jordan, Philadelphia, in 1959.
